

Terry Simioti Nyambe

Zambia - Nominated by ICOM Botswana

→ POSITION OF MEMBER

POSITIONS

- ◆ Assistant Curator of Ichthyology (2003-present)

Today ICOM has grown its membership to over 40,000 members. There is always a need and demand from members to increase membership value. How can ICOM satisfy the regions that constitute the highest number of members, and also take into account the regions that hold fewer members? I would like to be part of the Executive Board to continue promoting ICOM in areas where it is less represented and advocate for more to be associated with ICOM.

I would also like to continue advocating for more ICOM programmes to be done with African museums and other less represented regions by International Committees. Some effort is being done already but certainly a lot more can be done. We need to work around the barrier of communication.

ICOM continues to play a key role in the protection of cultural and natural heritage through its various tools and programmes using its wide network of museum professionals found all over the world. I would like to continue supporting efforts to help museums protect their heritage through the ICOM network.
