

CALL FOR PAPERS ICOMAM Magazine

ICOMAM: International Committee for Museums and Collections of Arms and Military History

We are especially keen to hear how you, your colleagues and your museum has managed over the past months.

Have you managed to gain new audiences?

How have you stayed in contact with your public?

Have you managed to re-open your museum and what were the challenges in keeping everyone, staff and public alike, safe.

We are, of course, also very interested in anything that is not Covid19 related too!

Articles in the magazine are an easy and effective way to spread the word about what is happening at your institution with colleagues around the world. You don't need to be an ICOMAM member to submit something, and you probably have at least some recent promotional notices on exhibitions or events that you might like us to know about. There is no required length—notice typically run about 500-1000 words, articles up to 2000, but shorter or longer is fine as well. Illustrations are highly encouraged.

Past issues can be seen here: <http://icomam.mini.icom.museum/the-magazine/>

If you require any assistance please contact us directly – smithbrown@basiliscoe.com

We look forward to hearing from you.